MR. GIBBS'S EFFORTS ALL IN VAIN.

THE CASE TO BE APPEALED-MCGLORY TO BE TAKEN TO COURT AGAIN TO-DAY.

TAKEN TO COURT AGAIN TO-DAY.

A mixed gathering, including many friends of the prisoner and many curiosity-seekers, filled Judge Cowing's court-room in the Court of General Sessions, yesterday morning, when "Billy" Medilory was arraigned for sentence for violation of the Excise laws. Inspector Byrnes sat within the Fanling, not far from District-Attorneys Fellows and Vincent. The prisoner had a solemn air as he was taken to the bar by the officers and scated near his counsel. Justice Alfred Steckler and Colonel Charles S. Spencer. He was without the diamond pin that had formerly made his shirt-front Instrons.

President J. B. Gibbs, of the Manhattan Temperance Association, hovered about the prisoner and his counsel, and seemed anxions to carry out his promises of the speedy release of the prisoner. Colonel Fellows moved for the sentence of McGlory, Justice Steckler asked for a new trial on the grounds that the weight of evidence was against the opinion that the liquor sold was intoxicating; that as his place was not licensed McGlory could not be held responsible for the acts of his bar-keepers, and that the offence was not committed in the ward charged in the indictment. Judge Cowing deried the motion.

McGlory with a slight swagger then advanced to the railing and with a Bowery accent said:

Well, Judge, what I have to say is that I didn't knew I was violating the law. I thought the liquor was not income.

Well, Judge, what I have to say is that I didn't know
I was violating the law. I thought the liquor was not intoxicating. I was arrested once before and taken before a Supreme Court Judge, and the Judge said it wan't any offence to sell it. I have been selling it since and thought it was all right. I told them at the browery that I wanted something that was not intoxicating, and they said this wasn't. I have had lots of people send me notices like McGlory handed to the Judge an advertisement of a "non-intoxicating beer." Colonel Spencer then made an earnest appeal for mercy for the prisoner, whom he said he had known for many years and who was always a faithful friend.

Colonel Fellows said that there was no question but that the beer that was sold was the same as lager-beer, and if McGlory was deceived no one else was. Mr. Fellows knew of no reason why the prisoner should be exempted from the full measure of punishment. No respect had been shown for the verdiet of the jury. He was informed that the place in Hester-st was still open, and there seemed to be no intention to close it. There were seven other indictments against McGlory.

in Hester-st was still open, and there seemed to be no intention to close it. There were seven other indictments against McGlory.

Judge Cowing then proceeded to pronounce sentence. While he was speaking Colonel Spencer tried to interrupt him, saying that Mr. Gibbs had something to say to the Judge. Judge Cowing with a wave of the hand said that he could have no interruptions. To the prisoner Judge Cowing said:

McGlory, you have been convicted of violating the Excise law. The maximum penalty for that offence is one year's imprisonment. The law you have violated is one of your own making, according to the theory of the law, as you are one of the people, and the people make the laws. An impartial Grand Jury has presented you on the charge of which you stand convicted. A jury of your own selection found you guilty. I have heard much against you and somewhat in your favor, but it is not the duty of the court to take these things into account except as they affect the question of your character. I do not wish to punish you for past misdeeds, I inflict the punishment under the guidance of my best judgment. The sentence of the court is that you be confined in the penitentiary for six months.

McGlory made no exclamation, but turned away

McGlory made no exclamation, but turned away and accompanied the officers. Mr. Gibbs stretched out his hand to seize that of the prisoner, but the latter brushed quickly by without apparently noticing the man whom he had expected to be of great was to him.

use to him.

Colonel spencer subsequently obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Justice Donohue in behalf of McGlory, and upon his petition, in order that argument may be made this morning for the admission of the prisoner to bail, pending an appeal to the General Term. McGlory's petition sets forth that his conviction was centrary to the evidence and the

The writ is returnable to-day.

Mr. Gibbs had bulletins posted in front of his cating-house in Nassan-st., stating the progress of the case. He first announced McGlory's sentence to the Island for six months, and the second told that a stay in the proceedings had been granted. When Mr. Gibbs was seen coming around the corner of Temple Court he was greeted with a vociferous welcome by a score of tattered and bedraggled bootblacks, who howled the salutation: "Ow's Billy, Gibbsey f Eh, 'ow's Billy i'" Mr. Gibbs walked with dignity to his dairy, and will go down to posterity, not as the rescuer of "Billy" McGlory, but as an innocent and guileless dispenser of milk.

McGlory was taken to the Tombs, where he was greeted by Warden Finn as a boarder too genial to lose. He was given a nice whitewashed cell on the basement floor. The thing that annoys him most is his loss of appetite. Of course he declaims vehemently against the injustice of imprisoning him for selling "table beer." After court hours "Billy" had many callers; the most sympathetic was John Conroy, who is beloved by "Billy" as the most snecessful "heeler" Armory Hall ever boasted. "Billy" had nothing to say about his sentence other than it was what he expected, and that he was "tired out."

FUNERAL OF MRS. JOHN A. DIX.

The broad aisles of Old Trinity were filled with surpliced clergymen and white-robed choir-boys, yesterday morning, at the funeral of Mrs. John A. 193x. A few minutes before 1 o'clock twenty members of the John A. Dix Post No. 135, G. A. R. marched into the church and took seats near the aitar. At the hour appointed for the services to begin a hearse and one carriage drove to the door, and the body of Mrs. Dix was cauried to the altar by eight vestrymen led by the sexton. The coffin was covered with a purple pail upon the centre of which was embroidered a white cross. At both cuds of the coffin were wreaths of violets. Behind the coffin walked the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix. Mrs. Blake and the Misses Blake, the son, daughter and nieces of the deceased woman. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. C. E. Swope, of Trinity Chapel, assisted by the Rev. G. W. Douglass, the assistant rector of Trinity Church. Among the clergy in the sacristy who followed the body to the burial vault were the Rev. Dr. James Mulchahy, of Saint Paul's; the Rev. Mr. Weston, of St. John's. the Revs. W. H. Cooke, Assistant Rector Thompson, of St. Paul's, and the Rev. Rullep Brown. The body was placed in a family vault in the church-yard. In the spring the body will be removed to Trinity Cemetery.

MORE GRUMBLING FOR WANT OF PAY.

MORE GRUMBLING FOR WANT OF PAY.

The employes in the Dock Commissioners' office were annoyed yesterday because they had not received their salaries for January. The pay-rolls were sent to Controller Grant, but on Tuesday he sent word that he could not approve of one of them, because one man, whose salary is $1.850 a year, had had two days' pay deducted. He held that such a deduction could not be made from a yearly employe. The matter will be adjusted to-day. The Controller has also decided that he cannot pay the salaries of the recording clerks and copying clerks in the County Clerk's office. He holds that the consolidated act does not provide for the payment of recording clerks, and that all appointments of clerks in that office, since January 4, 1884, are subject to the Civil Service rules. The County Clerk holds that his office is not a part of the city government, but that it was created under State laws, and is therefore not affected by the Civil Service rules. Controller Grant said that this and other questions had been submitted to the Corporation Connsci and "he was wrestling with the problem."

the problem."

The Centroller has paid all of the Aldermen except Charles H. Reilly, who attempted to hold two offices, that of Alderman and Civil District Court Clerk. He declines to pay the cierks of the Common Council for more than seven days work, they having been appointed on January 23. This does not apply, however, to Chief Clerk Twomey and General Cierk Maloney, who had served continuously from January 1.

THE PROPER COURT IN DISPUTE.

John D. Harrington appeared in the First District Police Court, Jersey City, yesterday morning, to answer the new charge of conspiracy to defraud the American Legion of Honor. Dr. Rufus W. Peacock, the other defendant, was too ill to come to court. Counsel for both waived examination. The question of reducing bail was discussed, and Norman I. Rowe, who appeared for Dr. Peacock, remarked that his client would not be here long, meaning that his illness is likely to prove fatal.

"Well, if the devil takes him, I suppose I can't help it," answered District-Attorney Winfield.

"You will have to prosecute him in a higher court, Mr. Winfield," continued Mr. Rowe.

"You mean that you will have to defend him in a lower court," promptly responded Mr. Winfield; and the audience broke into a laugh.

Bail was fixed at $2,000 in each case, and it was furnished by Harrington. Dr. Peacock will remain in charge of a policeman until he furnishes bonds or is well enough to be locked up. THE PROPER COURT IN DISPUTE.

The Grain Committee of the Produce Exchange has been quietly carrying on an investigation of charges made against some leading firms as being guilty of irregular and unmercantile conduct. Amour & Co. and Post & Co. are the principal complainants, and the amount involved is said to be about $20,000. The charges are that on January 11—three days prior to the posting of half a million bushels of "No. 2 Red Wheat" as out of condition—some of those who] held certificates on the same kind of wheat had their certificates cantelled. THE AQUEDUCT COMMISSION MEETING. THE AQUEDUCT COMMISSION MEETING.

At the meeting of the Aqueduct Commission vesterday a stalwart policeman brought from the Finance Department the cheeks for the salaries of Commissioners Dowd and Baldwin, which were received with smiles and thanks. A resolution was adopted requesting the Controller to issue bonds for $50,000 for the use of the Commission during the next three months. Mayor Edson said that before the expiration of that time work would be begun. Mr. Dowd said that he had heard that some delay in surveying had been caused by the examination of engineers by the Civil Service examiners, and that some had been unable to pass a satisfactory examination. Mayor Edson declared that, as a matter of fact, only one engineer had failed to pass. Secretary McCulloh was directed to send to the Commissioner of Public Works a request that certain maps, plans and specifications asked for by resolution of August 8, 1883, and again in October, be furnished to the Commission.

A STATUE OF GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE.

In the foundry of the Henry & Bonnard Company, in Mercer-st., is a bronze statue of General Robert E. Lee, which has just been cast there. It is sixteen feet high, General Lee is represented as standing with his arms folded and one foot advanced. He is in uniform with sword and sash. The dress was copied by the sculptor, Alexander Doyle, from the clothes actually worn by General Lee. The statue will be sent to Now-Orieans, where it will be set up in Tivoli square, the name of which will be changed to The Circle. The pedestal will be ninety-six feet high, which will make the statue look about his-size from the ground. The money for the statue was raised by subscription in New-Orleans.

RUNNING INTO A STREET CAR.

About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon John Marshall was driving a carriage in Eighty-sixth-st., when a boy threw a twig at the off horse, scaring him and making him ran away. In Third-ave, the carriage came into collision with a streetcar. Marshall was thrown to the ground and received a severe sprain of the right shoulder; the conductor of the car was harled from his platform against an elevated railway pillar and his hands and face were cut severely. The car was forced from the track and caused a delay of nearly afteen minutes before travel was resumed. Marshall succeeded in securing his horses and led them away. The passongers in the car were not hurt but many of them were greatly frightened.

WAS HE A COUNTERFEITER ?

Arthur F, Baidwin, who was convicted of counterfeiting last September, in the United States Criminal Court, is n w in the Tombs awalting the result of an application for a new trial. Counterfeiting materials were found in the rooms occupied by Baldwin, but he said that they must have been taken there by acquaintances of his daughter, who was a woman of bad reputation. The daughter was not produced as a witness at the time of the trial, and Baldwin said that he did not know where she was. Recently he said that she had returned and was willing to be a witness. An order was made appointing Commissioner Shields referee to take the testimony. Yesterday the woman, who now goes by the name of Josephine Perry, gave a part of her testimony. She said that she had been sick in various hospitals for several months and had not heard of her father's trial. She said that two of her acquaintances, named McGninness and Walters, had been allowed by her to put articles in her father's room, and she believed from what she heard that the men were counterfeiters.

DOINGS OF THE PAEK COMMISSIONERS.

At the meeting of the Park Commissioners yesterday morning a communication was read from Superintendent Jones, of Central Park, and Mr. Fisher, superintendent of gardening, recommending that many new trees be planted in the parks, and also that the basins of the dry fountains in the city squares be filled up and used as flower-beds. A petition from the park policemen and gate-keepers, asking for an increase of pay, was referred to Fresident Viele. They get $2 a day at present. A plan submitted by Engineer Keilogg, for the construction of a retaining wall for Conservatory Lake, in Central Park, near Seventy-third-st., with an underground connection to allow draining and cleaning the basin, was adopted, although there is no money in the lands of the Commissioners for making the improvement. The estimated cost of the wall is $12,000.

The suit of the Rev. Florence McCarthy, formerly pastor of St. Cacilia's Roman Catholic Church, at North Henry and Herbertsts., to recover $5,000 as damages for slander from Michael and Bridget Cronin, who denounced him at public services in his church for his actions toward their daughter, has been withdrawn. The Rev. J. Hyatt Smith will lecture this evening on "Paris." in the Willoughby Avenue Reformed Presbyterian Church. The proceeds will be used for repairing the church. City Clerk Shanley yesterday appointed Michael Commungs Deputy City Clerk, to succeed Solomon Gallinger. The salary is $2,500.

BROOKLYN.

The receipts of the Brooklyn Tabernacle for the year ending February 1, as reported by the treasurer, Dr. H. C. Tucker, were $26,327 69, and the balance on hand was $154 95. The salary paid to Mr. Talmage was $12,000.

Mr. Talmage was $12,000.

Patrick Doyle, of No. 236 York-st., and John Kelly, one of his neighbors, were arrested yesterday upon suspicion of robbing the store of Mason & Russell, at No. 473 Fulton-st., of clothing worth $900, on December 21, 1883. A woman associate of the men gave information which ied to their arrest.

Police Commissioner Partridge met the police captains at headquarters yesterday, and addressed a few words to them. Superintendent Campbell was instructed to inform the members of the force that Mr. Partridge had assumed the official duties of his age position. that Mr. Partridge had assumed the official datases of his new position.

Mrs. William Miller, of Windsor Terrace, a suburb of Brooklyn, while passing the Ocean Parkway entrance of Prespect Park on her way to Flatbush, yesterday morning, was attacked by a savage black dog, which was in company with two passing farm wazons. The dog bit her in the shoulder and legs and tore her clothes badly. A Park policeman drove the animal off with his club. The owner of the dog is not known.

Edward Keeler, who is a prisoner in the Raymond Street jail, awaiting examination upon the charge of committing a burglary in the store of Eldin B. Hayden, at No. 205 Fulton-st., is suspected of being one of the burglars who robbed a jewelry store in Springfield, Mass., in October, 1883, when property worth $8,500 was taken. A witness from that city has identified him as one of the suspected men seen there. Witnesses are to be sent from Birningham, Conn., to see if they can identify Keeler as a masked robber who aided in a robbery in that town in December of last year.

LONG ISLAND.

LONG ISLAND.

MASPETH.—John and Annie Cowhey, charged by Coroner Robinson with poisoning Thomas and Kate Collyer, at Laurel Hill, were arraigned before Justice McDonald yesterday. The examination was adjourned for a week.

SHELTER ISLAND.—James H. Tuthill, age eightyone, an old and wealthy resident, was found dead in the barn of Joseph Treadwell, on Monday. His throat was cut from car to car and a razor was tightly grasped in his right hand. The cause of his suicide is unknown.

STATEN ISLAND.

CLIFTON.—George Martin, a liquor dealer, and his wife have not lived happily together for some time. Five weeks ago she left him, taking their boy, age five, and leaving with him their two-year-old daughter in charge of Mrs. Ellis, the house-keeper. On Tuesday night Mrs. Martin walked into the house and throwing a cloak around the girl carried her off. Mrs. Ellis followed screaming. At the ferry Mrs. Martin was arrested on a charge of stealing the cloak, which belonged to Mrs. Ellis's daughter. She was released by Justice Kullman.

Lyman Crissey, the jurer who, in the trial of John D. Harrington for conspiracy, took a drink with the defendant in a bar-room, explained to the Court yesterday that he did not know the defendant. Judge McGill said that he considered such a man until to serve as a jurer, and he discharged Crissey for the term.

NEWARK.

The Newark Presbytery met yesterday in Wickliffe Street Church. The Rev. R. A. Davis, of the Farrield Presbytery of South Carolina, was invited to sit as a corresponding member. He addressed the Presbytery in reference to the needs of his colored congregation.

The veterinary surgeons of Essex, Hudson, Union and ofther counties met on Tuesday and effected a State organization, to be known as the Veterinary Medical Association of New-Jersey,
NEW-JERSEY.

NEW-JERSEY.

An Important Feature.

We do not assert what Hood's Sarsaparilla will do, but poin you to what it has done, leaving you to accept the conclusion "that what it has done it is fair to believe it will do again." We will tell you the truth in regard to this remarkable medi cine. We believe Hood's Sarsaparilla the best combination possible to purify, vitalize and enrich the blood, and t cradicate all obnoxious humors. A peculiar and important feature of Hood's Sarsapartila is that it strengthens and builds up the system, while it cradicates disease and all im-

Typhoid Pacamonia and Sciatica.

Messra C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Gentlemen: One year ago this fast fall I was taken sick with typhoid pneumonia, which left me very weak, without any ap-petite, and my blood in a fearfully low condition. I also had retite, and my blood in a fearfully low consulton. I also had a clatica theumatism. I have tried all the kinds of medicines I could think of, and none of them did me a particle of good. One af your agents gave me a set of your beautiful plaques, and reading what there was on the back. I was induced to purchase a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the result was most remark. able. I commenced to improve at once, and my appetite was much better. I gained strength and my rheumatism left me entirely. With everything that I have tried, I have never taken anything that gave me the relief that your Sarsaparilla has, and I would not be without it. I have taken four bottles. T. E.
